EMPLOYER INFORMATION

Thank you for your interest in Access Recognised Training's flexible work-based Certificate III Commercial Cookery Australian Apprenticeship pathway.

This information pack has been designed to be read in conjunction with the information available on accessrt.edu.au/sit30816-certificate-iii-in-commercial-cookery/

If you choose Access Recognised Training (ACCESS) as your preferred Registered Training Organisation (RTO), you and your Australian Apprentice, will be undertaking one of the most up-to-date, industry relevant training programs available. Together, we will work towards empowering your Australian Apprentice with the knowledge, practical skills and experience that is necessary to be successful in the challenging world of hospitality and commercial cookery.

Our Certificate III in Commercial Cookery program meets all the requirements of the VET Quality Framework (VQF) ensuring your Australian Apprentice will receive a Nationally Recognised Qualification on successful completion of their course.

ACCESS is a Registered Training Organisation (RTO) providing both accredited and non-accredited training courses in the Australian Capital Territory (ACT).

WORK-BASED TRAINING (WBT)

WBT involves the majority of training and assessment occurring in a real workplace. WBT is a combination of RTO guided theory-based learning (e-learning) and employer guided practical-based learning (on-the-job and off-the-job).

WBT is competency-based training (CBT), which means learners can progress once they have demonstrated competency. CBT means learners progress at a pace that suits them. They are not held back when they are ahead or pushed forward when they are not ready to progress. WBT allows learners to find the most efficient and effective path to achieving a qualification.

The RTO/workplace assessors' main role in WBT is to facilitate the learning process (provide learning materials and monitor and report learner progress) and conduct assessment when the learner is ready to be assessed.

The employer/workplace supervisors' main role is to supervise and provide the learner with the 'hands-on' experience and the appropriate equipment/facilities and guidance to conduct and practice the required skills. WBT recognises that the employer plays the most significant role in the training and development of learners.

The apprentices' main role is to make all reasonable efforts to acquire the skills of the vocation.

To achieve their qualification, an Australian Apprentice will need to successfully complete both the theory-based and practical-based components of the course.

Certificate III in Commercial Cookery has twenty-five units of competency (UoC). Once all competencies have been achieved your Australian Apprentice will have earned their Certificate III in Commercial Cookery and the ability to perform the role of a Qualified Cook in a commercial kitchen environment.

Theory-based Training and Assessment

The theory-based component of the course will be performed using a combination of online and face-to-face delivery modes. Your Australian Apprentice will have regular contact with the workplace assessor and be issued with the most engaging interactive multimedia learning resources available (Didasko Learning Resources). These resources are available via our online platform.

Didasko learning resources include:

- All theory-based assessment tasks and tools;
- Pictures and video from real industry environments;
- Challenging and stimulating multimedia activities;
- Voice-overs for simulated workplace situations;
- Clear, understandable text;
- Simple functionality for accessing and navigating; and
- Interactive guides that demonstrate features and show users how to navigate the resource.

You are required to allow your apprentice at least three hours per week to undertake the theory-based activities and liaise with their workplace assessor.

Practical-based Training and Assessment

The practical-based component of the course will occur primarily on-the-job. The workplace supervisor is responsible for the practical skills training. The assessment component involves the workplace assessor collecting evidence from the Australian Apprentice to prove they are competent in all the units of competency that make up the qualification. The evidence collected can include workplace observation and demonstration activities, workplace supervisor reports and electronic and hard copy portfolios of workplace activities.

STUDENT TUITION FEES

The ACT Education and Training Directorate cover the majority of training costs through a funding initiative known as User Choice. The remaining costs are covered by the student or their employer and are known as Student Tuition Fees. These tuition fees are compulsory and must be paid on release of units of competency (UoC's).

Student Tuition Fees for Certificate III in Commercial Cookery are charged per UoC. The cost per UoC is $71.60 and is charged when the training and assessment material has been released to the student. UoC's can be purchased in batches of three or more i.e the minimum charge is $$71.60 \times 3 = \214.80 . The total student tuition fee charged for Certificate III in Commercial Cookery is $1,790.00 (based on a student completing all 25 UoC's with ACCESS).

Students are required to consult with their workplace assessor and supervisor to request and approve release of UoC's.

Additional costs will apply for equipment, field trips, uniform/footwear etc.

Non-payment of Student Tuition Fees will result in ACCESS withholding certification until full payment has been made.
